Apollo Advanced Critical Care Conference 2023

5th & 6th August 2023 (Saturday & Sunday)
Taj Coromandel, Nungambakkam, Chennai-34.

12th Annual Apollo Advanced Critical Care Conference

Apollo Institute of Critical Care Medicine, Chennai is a Centre of Excellence and is one of the largest tertiary care referral units in the country. Our multidisciplinary Critical Care Unit (MDCCU) has state of the-art technology and round-the-clock accessibility to specialists. The unit is managed by highly qualified and experienced Critical Care Consultants Group (CCCG) headed by Dr. N. Ramakrishnan, Director - Critical Care Services.

The group provides standardized and high quality care across all Apollo Hospital Units in Chennai. The volume and variety of patients, expertise of reputed specialists and dedicated teaching program has resulted in this department being the largest and most sought after critical care training program in India. The Department is accredited by National Board of Examinations (NBE) for Superspecialty (DrNB) training in Critical Care and also by Indian Society of Critical Care Medicine (ISCCM) to offer its Diploma (IDCCM) and Fellowship (IFCCM) programs. In keeping with the tradition of Apollo Hospitals, the Department has trained several specialists in Critical Care Medicine who are now serving in various parts of India and overseas.

With its continued journey towards excellence, Apollo Institutes of Critical Care Medicine has clearly emerged as a leader in providing efficient, effective and empathetic care to critically ill patients. This year's program commemorates the 20th year of association of Critical Care Consultants Group (CCCG) with Apollo Hospitals and adopts a T-20 Format with 20 lectures by 20 different speakers for 20 minutes each. The program aims to share evidence based knowledge in an interactive style involving specialists to address on their areas of expertise.
